

EXPLANATORY NOTE TO THE INDEX

The Index is laid out in two sections as follows:

SECTION I – Subject Index

Subjects have been classified under thirteen main headings, viz: Animals; Badges; Battles and Campaigns; Biographical; Book Reviews; Buttons; Colours, Standards and Guidons; Formation Signs; Medals and Decorations; Museums; Shoulder Titles; Uniforms; Weapons. Those remaining unclassified have been inserted in a general section entitled Miscellaneous, with a brief reference to the subject matter of the article where necessary.

SECTION II – Regimental/Unit Index.

This section has been arranged as follows: British Army; Indian Army – which is further sub-divided into Cavalry; Artillery Engineers, Sappers & Miners, Signals, Pioneers; Infantry; Gurkhas, A & Q Services; Frontier Units; Auxiliary Force (India); Imperial Service Troops/Indian State Forces; Indian Navy; Indian Air Force; Police; Overseas, including Brunei, Burma, Ceylon/Sri Lanka, Gulf States, Hong Kong, Malaya, Nepal, Singapore, South Africa and Miscellaneous. Indian units have been placed in order of precedence according to the 1947 list, with previous units in their lineage listed under these, e.g. a regimental medal to 12th Madras Infantry is listed under 2nd Punjab Regiment – 12th Madras Infantry became 72nd Punjabis in 1903 which in turn became 3rd Bn., 2nd Punjab Regiment in 1922. Regiments disbanded before 1947 are inserted under a separate heading, as are new post-Independence raised units.

There have been a number of changes in format since IMHS was formed. Initially known as the Indian Military Collectors Society (IMCS), a duplicated A4 size Newsletter, later and briefly called DURBAR, was issued. It is shown in the Index as NL. In the first two years it was supplemented by an annual Journal in the now familiar A5 format (shown in the Index as J1984 or J1985). Subsequent editions of the Newsletter appeared in the A5 format though initially and somewhat confusingly called Journal, as with the previous annual documents. The name DURBAR was re-introduced with effect from Vol. 5, No 2. The name changes to the A5 format have been disregarded for the purposes of this index and all entries other than the NL and J1984/5 referred to above are indicated by reference to the Volume, Number and page, e.g. 6/2/8 is Volume 6, No 2, page 8. Follow-up articles or correspondence appear immediately after the main entry, often with just the volume/page number reference. An asterisk * denotes an illustration.

It should be noted that in the early years the Society did not necessarily issue four journals a year; thus Volume 2 consisted of issues 1, 2 and 4 (3 was not issued). In Volume 3, No 3 some pages are marked as Vol. 3, No 2. Both Volumes 4 and 5 consisted of issues 1, 2 and 3 (4 was not issued in either year). From then onwards we achieved four issues a year for each Volume. Dates were introduced to the front cover with effect from Vol. 6, No 4 (Winter 1989) but have been excluded from this Index.

The former India Office Library was merged with the British Library and was originally known as the Oriental and India Office Collection. Although now falling within the Asia Pacific Collection documents relevant to the Indian Army are now accessed through the India Office Library and Records (IOLR) heading. Early references in the journal referred to India Office Library. For the sake of uniformity all such references are now shown as BL-IOLR.

Key to Index References:

NL/1/2 - Newsletter/No.1/Page 2
J/1984 (5)/2 - Journal/1984 or 1985/Page 2
10/2/3 - Durbar/Vol.10/No.2/Page 3

For those accessing the on-line version of Durbar the page numbers can be ignored. Stripping out earlier society news and administrative items has altered the page numbers but the hyper-links should take you to the relevant article.
